ARCHIVIST'S NOTES

This electronic file of the 1951 NHS yearbook, "The Voyager," is reproduced from Erinnerungen, published by the seniors of 1951 in the seven American Dependents High Schools in Germany. This was the third year the yearbooks from all the high schools were combined into one volume.

Those people desiring a complete electronic file of the 1951 Erinnerungen may contact NAA founder T. D. Jorgensen through the Association website.

The yearbook from which this file was reproduced was a gift to the NAA Archives from William "Bill" Eckert, class of 1951. Many thanks.

AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOLS OF GERMANY

DEDICATION

To man's faith and belief in the words inscribed on the Freedom Bell,

“That this world, under God shall have a new birth of freedom,”

we dedicate this record of our school days in Germany.

The opportunity to attend American schools in occupied Germany represents a real challenge to all students. For you are living in an area where one of the greatest transitions in history is taking place. You cannot afford to neglect the responsibility which comes with this opportunity.

You represent an American heritage. The strength of a nation to endure lies in its youth, and the youth of the entire world holds the key to everlasting peace. Your conduct and attainments here in Germany can be a living symbol of our democratic way of life. You can best make this a reality by maintaining your education at the highest possible level.

We believe that 1951 will become the year of decision, that it will represent a peaceful solution to all the world problems. However, the road to permanent peace is beset with obstacles and fraught with danger. Your contribution as students is to do nothing less than your best.

A handwritten signature in dark ink, which appears to read "John J. McCloy". The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above the printed name.

John J. McCloy
United States High Commissioner

I congratulate the members of the graduating class of 1951. This is a happy occasion for you — happy because it marks successful accomplishment.

From the relatively carefree world of youth, you now take your place in an adult world as men and women with ever increasing responsibilities. You have worked hard and studied diligently under the able direction and guidance of your teachers. I am sure that you are well prepared to assume the added responsibilities which will be yours.

To all students of the American High Schools in the European Command, I extend greetings. You are singularly fortunate in having the opportunity to obtain, at least a part of your education here in Europe. You have the privilege of attending an American school and at the same time observing at first hand through travel and association, the customs and the culture of Western Europe. Your contemporaries in the States may well be envious of your unusual opportunities.

You represent an important segment of American life to the Germans. They observe in you our educational system in action — a system which places no restriction or limitation upon the student by reason of social position, or caste; a system which encourages intelligent inquiry by the student; a system for the training of a democratic citizenry for a democratic country.

Your conduct, your sense of fair-play and tolerance, your interest in the culture and customs of Germany, and your friendliness are all important factors in bringing to the German people a true understanding of the American people and the country we represent. You play an important role in the over-all mission of the Occupation Forces in Germany.

I have mentioned your acquisition of academic knowledge and the peculiar position you occupy here in Germany. Now I would like to go one step farther and give you one particular item of which I would like you to think. These are difficult days, days of decision, days of stress and days of clashing ideologies. I want to urge upon you, under these trying conditions, to give careful attention to staunchly upholding the high moral standards so firmly established by our pioneer ancestors and maintaining American strength of character. Never were these personal characteristics more greatly needed than in our world today, when there are so many temptations and doctrines which would try to break our people down.

To each of you I extend my best wishes for success in your school work and may you continue to profit by your experiences in Europe.

REPORT OF OPERATIONS

In Retrospect

The Dependents School Service was formally established on May 4, 1946. Its purpose was two-fold: (1) to organize and maintain schools on both the elementary and secondary levels in military communities in Germany, and (2) to supply German educators with a model American school system in action, from which to draw inspiration for the reorganization and democratization of the German educational program.

The first appointee to staff the headquarters unit was Virgil R. Walker, who opened his offices in the Elizabethan School in Frankfurt and gathered around him a staff which included Richard R. Meyering, George W. Orford, and Wilfred G. Clelland, augmented during the next four months by the first Chief of the Division, Colonel James P. Murphy, Lauren S. Buel, Imogene Talcott, Marion Hoch, Anne Smith, and Alfred W. Beerbaum. Major commands and community commanders were informed of their responsibilities in establishing the schools: finding adequate plants and appointing school officers who would serve as a link between the central office and the local military. Funds were made available from non-appropriated funds and from limited tuition fees. Between August and October teachers arrived from the States, all of whom had been carefully selected by Mr. Meyering and WAC Major Mary S. Bell.

On October 14, 1946, 38 elementary and 5 high schools opened their doors to more than 2000 children from all 48 of the United States. The schools were as American as could be, except that the locale was that of a German community, some of the teaching staff were German nationals, and most of the children elected to study German as a regular school subject. By the end of the school year, kindergartens had been established in five communities and the total enrollment in all schools – kindergarten 108, elementary 2353, and high school 626 – reached 3087. The North Central Association accredited high schools at Berlin, Frankfurt, Heidelberg, Munich, and Nuernberg, and impressive graduation exercises were held for high school seniors in historic halls and German civic auditoriums.

The second year of operations, 1947-48, showed many changes. Colonel Joseph C. Haw came to Headquarters as Chief of the Dependents School Division replacing Colonel Murphy, who retired. The physical appearance of school plants was greatly improved, better school furniture replaced the make-shift items in classrooms, and newly adopted textbooks and workbooks had arrived from the States in large quantities. The peak enrollment during this year was 4200 in all schools. High schools established in Wiesbaden and in the Bremen Enclave were fully accredited. The DSD program was now financed for the most part from appropriated funds and the teachers were employed under Civil Service contracts.

During the third year, 1948-49, DSD continued to improve and to grow. Peak total enrollment of 5146 was reached. Considerable difficulty was being encountered in getting enough teachers from the States to take care of the steadily increasing enrollment. It is significant that nearly half of the total enrollment was concentrated in kindergarten and the first two grades. However, by this time it was possible to plan more adequately for each succeeding school year on the basis of past experience and Army forecasts on the number of families coming to EUCOM.

The fourth year of operations, 1949-50, was marked by many changes, brought about chiefly by a large increase in enrollment. Now there were 39 kindergartens with a total enrollment of 1274, 57 elementary schools with 5582, and 7 high schools with 891 – a grand total of 7747. In February Colonel Russell F. Albert was announced as the Chief, Dependents School Division, replacing Colonel Joseph C. Haw, who returned to the ZI. Courses of study, developed through the cooperation of the teachers and comparing favorably with the best offered in the States, were published and put into use in all schools. Classroom and office furniture, textbooks, teaching supplies, and playground equipment were becoming modern and up to date. High school athletic teams were contending for conference honors in football, basketball, and baseball just like their contemporaries in the States. Many other normal extra-curricular activities were finding their way into school life. At the close of the school year 145 high school seniors received diplomas and 337 pupils graduated from the elementary schools. Ten of the high school graduates had completed all their high school education in EUCOM.

All this brings us to the present school year, 1950-51, and we are proud of the progress of DSD during these five short years. This year the enrollment – kindergarten 1056, elementary 7120, and high school 997 – shows a grand total of 9173 (January 1, 1951). New elementary schools have been opened in Bonn, in the British Zone, and in Bordeaux, La Rochelle, Orleans, Paris, and Verdun, in France, during the first semester and it seemed likely that more schools would open in France before the end of the school year. Teaching in all DSD schools are some 400 American teachers and 265 German assistants. In spite of the uncertainty of world conditions and the rumors which disturbed but could not stop our studies, we have enjoyed a wonderful year and soon graduation will be here for 190 seniors who will take with them happy memories of school life in Germany. Many and colorful are the incidents that have marked the life and growth of DSD. Five years ago we started from nothing and with our rapid turnover very few students and teachers are able to look back to our beginning. This Annual, our third, is a glowing testimony to the vigor and spirit of the American Schools in Germany. Truly the two-fold purpose for establishing DSD is being achieved. The guiding force behind DSD development has been the Headquarters Staff with offices at Karlsruhe whose pictures appear on pages 8 and 9 of this Annual.

1950-51 Index to School Personnel

Classifications are indicated by sr for senior, jr for junior, soph for sophomore, fr for freshman. Subjects taught by teachers are in italics. Transfers in and out are marked where known. Those personnel with AB after their name are mentioned in at least one issue of "The Army Brat" but do not appear in the yearbook. DNG after names of seniors means they did not graduate with their class. They may have transferred out, but their transfer is not mentioned in extant issues of "Army Brat."

FOREWORD

A trip through Nürnberg has been chosen as the theme for the 1951 VOYAGER. The staff has attempted to give the students a series of photographs which will later recall memories of their stay here.

We hope, by including pictures of Nürnberg both before and after the war, to remind students of the untiring energy of the people of this city as they strive to rebuild their homes and traditional landmarks.

The annual staff wishes to express its deepest thanks to Herr Kriegbaum of the Nürnberg City Planning Office for supplying the photographs which made this theme possible. The staff also wishes to express its sincere thanks to the Signal Corps photographers of Nürnberg Military Post and Erlangen Sub-Post for their patient cooperation in helping us with our photographic work. The portraits and some group pictures were taken by Herr Albert Kohler.

Nürnberg American School

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Construction was begun on the large, three-story, brown stone building at 19 Tannen Strasse in 1906. Since then it has led a varied and interesting life. Originally a girl's school, 19 Tannen Strasse was drafted into service as a hospital during World War II. It was probably the now faded red cross painted on its roof that saved it from the ravaging bombs that wrought so much destruction in Nürnberg and Fürth. After the war our building continued as a hospital until 1947 when it was designated as the home of Nürnberg American Schools.

For five years now the sounds so familiar to American schools have echoed through its halls. But at last the end of its faithful service as an American school appears to be nearing an end. The Nürnberg Military Post Engineers have plans for the construction of a new, modern building, which will make school life more pleasant for those of us who will be here next September.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

"Well, I finally made it," was the main thought in everyone's mind when school began last September. The class of 1951 accepted responsibilities as seniors even before it had elected officers.

The class officers elected were Charles Hitselberger, president; Bill Eckert, vice-president; Bill Hartnett, secretary; Ralph Lurvey, treasurer; Ann O'Roark and Ronald Valimaki, Student Council representatives. Bill Hartnett left for Frankfurt and Jackie Surratt was elected secretary.

The senior class has had a busy year. The first project was to make the freshmen feel welcome. The class had a very thorough initiation, which was topped off by a dance at Stein Castle. There probably isn't a freshman in Nürnberg High School who will forget initiation.

There were twenty-three seniors at the beginning of the school year; one soon went to Frankfurt and three to the States. Four members have been students in Nürnberg High School since they were sophomores — Peter Paul, Reita Alexander, Ronald Valimaki and Roberta Philbrick.

The senior class has been active in the social activities throughout the year and has furnished a large part of the manpower in sports.

CLASS PROPHECY

Nürnberg had certainly changed since way back in 1951. That's what we thought as we came back across the Atlantic in the year of 1961 for our Alumni reunion.

It was quite an occasion for two former school friends, one of whom was the noted journalist, Betty Fowler, and the other, Diane Russell, the wealthy secretary for one of the big radio stations in the States, to be accompanying each other back to their beloved old Nürnberg.

We decided to take a tour of the rehabilitated city for the sake of memories.

After going but two blocks, whom should we meet but Jackie Surratt, now a brilliant young doctor, escorted by that shrewd business manager, Floyd Brown.

As we passed the Palace of Justice, our eyes were attracted to a tall, mysterious figure spying eagerly for any suspicious footprints that might be about. As he slowly lifted his worried brow, we recognized him as the great detective and modern Sherlock Holmes, Ronald Valimaki.

Wandering over to the Military Post, we bumped into the two promising young recruits, Stanley Caldwell and Ralph Lurvey. They seemed quite excited over the possibility of receiving their Pfc. stripes after only eight years service in the Army.

As we strolled through the Fürther Krankenhaus, we noticed a number of familiar faces.

Our industrious Patsy McCarthy, as a laboratory technician, was busily making blood tests for her doctor and world famous surgeon, Bill Eckert.

Passing the polio ward we saw a little earnest physiotherapist, Bobbie Philbrick, attending some of her stricken patients.

Hearing screams from the other end of the hall, we rushed to the scene of smoke and confusion to find Chief Fireman Charlie Hitselberger taking his time rescuing three lovely nurses, Beverly Lysaught, Sally Alexander, and Bernice Hearn. Later it was found that the fire was just the result of another misplaced cigarette of Charlie's.

While window shopping back at Nürnberg in the Walled City, we met one of our most distinguished Alumni members, Elizabeth Hejno, who had torn herself away from her duties as U.N. Secretary to see her old friends again.

Further down the street, also indulging in window shopping, was the well-known advertising executive, Jim Savident, with his charming private secretary, Ann Bragan.

Art had paved a new career in Bob Gross's life and he was revealing his talent as he masterfully touched up old murals. He was being carefully observed and advised by one of the most outstanding engineers of all times, Jack Phillips.

Just as we were about to step across the way to the Grand Hotel for a snack, three familiar figures met our eyes. It seemed that Ann O'Roark, another successful journalist, was vainly trying to get John Partin, the walking encyclopedia and Professor of Political Science, to give his opinion of what he thought of that ever popular phrase, "If you want me big boy, just whistle, just pucker up and blow."

We noticed that Peter Paul, United States Ambassador to Switzerland, was quite silent about the whole discussion, but his frantic effort to pucker up his lips in an attempt to whistle was more than obvious.

After we had finished eating our tasty dish of "Wiener Schnitzel," we wholeheartedly agreed that our graduating class of 1951 had contributed some of the most successful and well-known persons to the world; and that our class was truly a versatile one.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Three years ago, a group of frightened students entered N. H. S. dreading the events that happen to all freshmen. Now, with only a few of the original students from this group left, we stand our ground as mighty juniors.

After school had really started this year, the class elected their class officers and student council representatives, who were president, Charles Pickett; vice-president, Norma Emde; secretary, Pauline Worthington; and treasurer, Earl Sweeney, who was later replaced by Alfred Benavides. Student Council representatives were Norma Emde and Alfred Benavides. Charles Pickett moved away and Norma Emde replaced him as president. Carl Peterson was elected the new vice-president.

The junior class was well represented in all athletics. Four of the cheerleaders in N. H. S. were from the junior class. They were Alta Minthorn, Beattie Owens, Norma Emde, and Pauline Worthington.

Mr. Warren Robbins was sponsor the first semester, and Miss Vivian Howes, the second semester.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

The sophomores began the year by electing class officers, who were Bob Isett, president; Carolyn Norman, vice-president; Mary Hitselberger, secretary; and Thomas Joyce, treasurer. Carolyn, vice-president, moved to Garmisch, and her place was taken by Bill Killough. Student council representatives were Nancy Varney and Art Mace.

At the beginning of the year, the class enrollment was thirty-five; but before long, six pupils moved away. However, new students came in.

The class was well represented in every activity with ten on the football team and seven on the basketball team.

The sophomores sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance and the Spring Dance.

The sponsor was Miss Hermine Shekerjian, from San Francisco, California. She attended Stanford University and teaches geometry and algebra.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

Freshmen will remember when they began their first year of high school on September 3, 1950.

Their first exciting experience was the initiation, with those clever little costumes they wore so proudly. The girls in their short, short skirts, bows, socks, and pigtailed were so sophisticated. The boys were dashing in their short pants, jackets, and shirts worn inside out, portraying the “man of distinction.” The climax of this memorable occasion came when they so gracefully sauntered down the aisle of the auditorium on their hands and knees singing an aria from the Opera of the Old West, yes, “Mule Train!” They can also reminisce over the dance the upper classmen gave them at Stein Castle to end the initiation.

Not many will forget the Christmas formal at the Stork Club, sponsored by the freshmen. The girls were sensational in their Christmas formals with the boys in their smart Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, shining faces, and best manners.

Freshmen sponsors were Miss Lucile Rack and Mr. Bill Zeffiro. Miss Rack and Mr. Zeffiro both arrived in Germany in August of 1950. Miss Rack is from Santa Rosa, Texas, and Mr. Zeffiro is from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

There were 38 members of the class.

THE GIRLS' DORMITORY

This year has really been an historical one for the Nürnberg Girls' Dormitory. The dormitory has been completely redecorated, and supplied with new furniture and rugs. The new look was a wonderful surprise to the old girls as well as to the new ones.

The redecoration of the dorm was somewhat overshadowed, however, by the fact that about forty girls turned up for the beginning of school. That night the house on Dr. Mack Strasse was really bursting at the seams. Everyone took it in good spirits, though, and there was not a girl left without a bed. The first few weeks were a strain on everyone, for there were as many as ten girls to a room, but everyone seemed to be good-natured and all remained friends.

Then suddenly girls started leaving and we lost eight of our good friends. After Thanksgiving vacation the freshmen girls got a new dorm of their own just across the street.

The biggest change of the year, however, came when we lost Mrs. Ailee Ervin, our dorm mother, to Heidelberg. Our new dorm mother is Miss Claire McGinty. Mrs. Charles W. Britton, mother of one of our dorm girls, was temporary supervisor for the freshmen dorm, but Miss Laural Careth is now the permanent dorm mother.

BOYS’ DORMITORY

Twenty-seven boys, ranging in size from “Tiger” Bob Burchell to Ronald Valimaki, make their home for ten months of the year in the yellow stucco Boys’ Dormitory at 39 Dr. Mack Strasse, Furth, Bavaria. During the intervals between the uproars caused by exploding firecrackers and that weapon of friendly warfare, the waterbomb, the dorm finds time to conduct itself in an entertaining, business-like manner. Mr. Chandler Hicks, supervisor, a University of Connecticut graduate, although a novice at his job has gained the respect of all as a “regular fella” with his just policies and square judgments.

The thoroughly efficient Council includes Ralph Lurvey, president; Ronald Valimaki, vice-president; Bob Isett, secretary-treasurer; and Floyd Brown, social chairman. Under the guidance of this group, the boys have engineered several successful socials and maintained dorm discipline.

The Dorm likewise has been a pot of gold for Mr. Bill Zeffiro in his search for athletic talent. It has placed seven men on the football starting “eleven” and provided four-fifths of the starting basketball team. Counselor of the second semester was Mr. Thomas Linton.

Members of the Student council:

Seated: Mr. John Charlson, adviser; David Peterson, Dulaney O'Roark, Alfred Benavides, treasurer; Ann O'Roark, president, Norma Emde, Art Mace

Standing: Ronald Valimaki and Nancy Varney

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, sponsored by Mr. John E. Charlson, has consisted of two representatives from each of the four upper grades. The officers were Ann O'Roark, president, and Alfred Benavides, secretary-treasurer.

The Student Council sponsored the football banquet in January, held a student-government day, planned the social activities and the assemblies for each month, and solved many minor problems.

It was a very successful year for the Student Council, and much progress has been made toward better student-teacher cooperation for everyone's benefit. The Student Council conference held in Heidelberg was a big step towards improvement of the program of the Student Council.
